The South Umpqua School District, consisting of 1,475 students, stretches along the I-5 corridor in scenic Douglas County, approximately 20 miles south of Roseburg, Oregon. This district is nestled in the South Umpqua River valley midway between Eugene and Medford, serving students from the communities of Myrtle Creek, Tri City, and Canyonville. District priorities are: “See each child” (teaching each child like he or she is the only child in the district); “Make and keep the promise of success” (a promise that each child will be successful); and “Don’t run alone – use the power of community” (collaboration and support evident at all levels). For more information, visit the district’s website: www.susd.k12.or.us.

Recreational and cultural opportunities abound in the region. The district is conveniently located near a multitude of scenic byways, local vineyards, and wineries. The North and South Umpqua rivers offer many outdoor opportunities, including premier salmon fishing. Within 90 minutes, residents of this community can travel west to the Oregon Coast, east to the Oregon Cascades, north to Eugene, and south to Medford/Ashland. Crater Lake, Diamond Lake, and the Oregon Dunes recreational areas are also within an easy drive of the district. For more information, visit www.myrtlecreekchamber.com.
